The Busy Lieblers.

The promise issued from the Liebi Co. offices a month ago, to the effect that Co. offices a month ago, to the effect that that firm would be represented almost weekly in the metropolitan first nights in midseason, is being redeemed. Since the publication of that promise the firm has presented Olga Nethersole in "Mary Magdalene" at the New Theater, Albert Chevaller in "Daddy Dufard" at the Hackett Theater, and Louis N. Parker's comedy of happiness, "Pomander Walk," comedy of happiness, "Pomander Walk," which has scored such a hit at Wallack's. New Year's the firm will add two more to its New York attractions, with "Marto its New York attractions, with "Mar-riage a la Carte," a new musical comedy by the author of "The Belle of New York," at the Casino, and at the Broad-way Theater Lustin Parnum, together with George Fawcett, Theodore Roberts, W. S. Hart, and a number of other fine actors, in Edwin Milton Royle's latest Western play, "The Stlent Call."

A Triumph of Realism.

One piece of realism at the Amphion Theater, Brooklyn, took hold of the spec-tators so forcibly on December 19 that it tators so forcibly on December 19 that it made a deep impression. In the course of the drammer the poverty-stricken queen of the highway finds it difficult to keep the wolf from the door. The wolf got more than usually enthusiastic on this particular evening, chewed his way through the netting that was intended to hold him for a while, and dashed over the footlights to watch the performance

Domestic Troubles and Otherwise.

The story that Edna Goodrich was seeking a divorce from her husband, Nat Goodwin, is denied by both parties. Every now and then this report is circulated. Miss Goodrich has gone to Atlantic City to spend the holidays, while Mr. Goodwin is at the home of his father in Boston.

The story that Margaret Dale intended to forsake the profession for the firestde is stamped absolutely untrue by Miss Dale, who says she will appear in a new production in a very short timt.

A great deal has been printed about the separation of Luiu Glaser and her husband. Ralph C. Herz. Mr. Herz has written a letter to a newspaper printed in Mount Vernon in which he stated that he was living at the Hermitage Hotel in New York, while his wife was residing with her mother in Mount Vernon. He mays there will be no divorce, but merely a case of one going one way and the other another way.

"Bought and Paid For."

Henry Dixey is about to discard, or has by this time discarded, "The Naked Truth," which was naked in more senses than one, for business was wretched, illness in the company made man worse. Mr. Dixey is rehearsing Geo worse. Mr. Dixey is rehearing George Broadhurst's new play, "Bought and Paid For." Ida Conquest has been en-gaged as his leading woman, and Edward/ Ellsler is the stage director. Mr. Dixay is playing under William A. Brady's man-agement.

Theater Fires.

The old Odd Fellows' Hall, once use as a theater in Norfolk, Va., was burne out on the same date.

A fire in New Orleans on Friday of list week damaged the interior of the Shubst Theater. The repairs will be prompt made, and the house will open in a week
